Professional Web Design & HTML Tutorials

Way back when, we thought that being on 'the Web' was a novelty.

Not any more! The Internet is transforming how we communicate and how we do business. You think television was big?? Ain't nuthin compared to this.

Why should you get online? What opportunities are here now? Well for starters...

- Increased exposure and name recognition.
- Hyper-develop niche markets... and maybe even develop a few new ones!
- Online catalogs and order forms. Sell your products and services directly over the net.
- Expand your market worldwide... people in Germany need widgets too!
- Lead generation.
- Customer service & support.

What does it all cost? Not a whole heck of a lot.

If you have been thinking about hiring a Web Page Designer, then give us a little information and get the ball rolling.

Assignment: Create a webpage for online examination as follows.

Description / Course Goals / Grading Policies / Required Materials / Course Calendar

Description:

This course is designed for those teachers enrolled in the Crosscultural Language and Academic Development Program. It is an in depth study of the methodology and strategies for appropriate instruction of English Language Learning students in California today. Topics examined in this class will include the historical and contemporary status of language minority groups in California, an introduction to the sound and structure of the English language, and exploration of the current research available on second language acquisition methods.

Course Goals:

1. Knowledge of first and second language acquisition theories and teaching strategies, including knowledge of the elements of linguistics applied to second language learning and content teaching for E. L. L. students.
  - a. Identification of language proficiency terms based on research of Dr. James Cummins: Basic Interdependent

Assignment: Create following table

B	C	D
E		F

Assignment: Create following page as footer.

Other Tools

After the first two or three weeks of class, poll your students and ask them which three things they like best about the class and which three things they would like you to change. Share the results with the entire class using the Summary link in the Assignment Scores view. Many times there are conflicting ideas about how to improve the class!

Upload your own materials to the Resources section and make them available to your students. Students often learn more from materials you develop, including, for example, PowerPoint slides, videos, and lectures notes, than from the textbook.
